Dissenters' Right of Appraisal

There are no matters to be acted upon at the meeting involving instances set forth in the Corporation Code of the Philippines (the Code) for which a stockholder may exercise the right of appraisal. Nevertheless, the following are the instances when a stockholder may exercise his appraisal right, as provided in the Code:

- a. In case any amendment to the articles of incorporation has the effect of changing or restricting the rights of any stockholder or class of shares, or of authorizing preferences in any respect superior to those of outstanding shares of any class, or of extending or shortening the term of corporate existence (Section 81);
- b. In case of sale, lease, exchange, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporate property and assets as provided in the Code (Section 81);
- c. In case of merger or consolidation (Section 81); and

- d. In case of investments in another corporation, business or purpose other than the primary purpose for which it was organized (Section 42).

The appraisal right may be exercised by a stockholder who shall have voted against the proposed corporate action, by making a written demand on the corporation within thirty (30) days after the date on which the vote was taken for payment of the fair value of his shares: Provided, that failure to make the demand within such period shall be deemed a waiver of the appraisal right. A stockholder must have voted against the proposed corporate action in order to avail himself of the appraisal right. If the proposed corporate action is implemented or effected, the corporation shall pay to such stockholder upon surrender of his certificate(s) of stock representing his shares, the fair value thereof as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken, excluding any appreciation or depreciation after such corporate action. If within a period of sixty (60) days from the date the corporate action was approved by the stockholders, the withdrawing stockholder and the corporation cannot agree on the fair value of shares, it shall be determined and appraised by three (3) disinterested persons, one of whom shall be named by the stockholder, another by the corporation and the third by the two thus chosen. The finding of the majority of appraisers shall be final, and their award shall be paid by the corporation within thirty (30) days after such award is made; provided, that no payment shall be made to any dissenting stockholder unless the corporation has unrestricted retained earnings in its books to cover such payment; and provided, further, that upon payment by the corporation of the agreed or awarded price, the stockholder shall forthwith transfer his shares to the corporation.

Interest of Certain Persons in or Opposition to Matters to be Acted Upon

(1) Interest of Certain Persons in Matters to be Acted Upon

No person who has been a director or officer of the Corporation, or a nominee for election as a director of the Corporation, or any of their associates has a substantial interest in any matter to be acted upon at the annual stockholders' meeting.

(2) Opposition to Matters to be Acted Upon

No director of the Corporation has informed in writing that he intends to oppose any matter to be acted upon at the annual stockholders' meeting.

All proxies must be presented to the Corporate Secretary for inspection and record at or prior to the time set for the meeting. A proxy filed with the Corporate Secretary may be revoked by the stockholder either in an instrument in writing duly presented or recorded with the Corporate Secretary, prior to a scheduled meeting or by his personal presence at the meeting.

A sample form of the proxy is attached to the notice of the meeting. The Corporation is not soliciting any proxies from its stockholders. The form of the proxy is being provided solely for the purpose of informing the stockholders.

Unless otherwise provided in the proxy, it shall be valid only for the meeting at which it has been presented to the Corporate Secretary.

All elections and questions, except as otherwise provided by law, shall be decided by the plurality of vote of the stockholders present in person or by proxy, a quorum (majority of the issued and outstanding capital stock having voting powers) being present.

Method by which Votes will be Counted

Unless required by law or demanded by a stockholder present in person or by proxy, the vote on any question need not be by ballot. It is sufficient for a stockholder to verbally cast his vote.

The Corporation's Corporate Secretary and Assistant Corporate Secretary are authorized to count the votes cast during the meeting.
